Abode of the Asiatic Lion, Gir is considered a jewel of Gujarat's ecological resources. Besides the abundance of fresh greens and ingredients, the general population here really enjoys sweet-sour-spicy flavors, be it the Jains, Parsis or Marwadis.

Its sister towards the extreme right is Kaziranga, which has some of the most unique species of animals like Two of the largest snakes in the world, the Reticulated Python and the Rock Python, the longest venomous snake in the world, the King Cobra and the Eastern Swamp Deer or Barasingha.

Expanding our horizons beyond the country, Containing the largest expanse of rainforest in all of Asia, the Indonesian Forest is home to hundreds of distinct animal species including Sumatran tigers, pygmy elephants, rhinoceros, orangutans and indigenous ingredients like galangal, edible fungi, Kecap manis (used in Nasi Goreng), Sambal, etc.

And finally not missing out on the Amazon - The world's biggest rainforest, and its river is the world's largest by volume. The forest also acts as a source of a plethora of ingredients like cacao, cassava, avocados, coffee, tea, ubiquitous spices like vanilla and sugar and last but not the least 20% of the total atmospheric oxygen.

African cooking, like the continent itself, is so full of surprises, magical, with fantastic elements of different cultures – Arab, European, Asian and Black African, there is much to discover with Africa's delicious and varied cuisine. Some of the common ingredients we see are coconut milk, tamarind, tomatoes, spices, yam, beans, etc.

Now from the tours abroad, coming to the Central parts of India; Being a national park, people often think that the eating options would be limited to the ones inside the hotels and resorts, but that is not true at all!
