A Traditional Classic

Sangria

Experience the flavours of middle ages Spain with our signature Sangrias. While the tradition of mixing wine and fruit dates back centuries, legend has it that it was originally created as a way to make wine taste better in hot climates. "Sangria" is derived from the Spanish word "sangre," which means "blood," and refers to the red colour of the drink. Sip on a glass of our Sangrias and get transported to the sun-soaked vineyards of Andalusia.

Aperitifs & Liqueurs

Before the meal, there is the aperitif to stimulate your appetite. Sip on one of our carefully crafted cocktails made with bitter liqueurs and sweet vermouths that are designed to stimulate the appetite and awaken the senses. Or come, indulge in a glass of our fine liqueurs as a 'digestif' to aid digestion. We have some of the most popular ones, from the herbal and bitter "Campari" to the sweet and creamy "Bailey's Irish Cream".
